The reason for this article is to go over Liberty League and the three products that they offer. Liberty League is an online marketing company that claims to create wealth for its members by marketing personal development products. One of Liberty League's products is a home study course and the two other products are in the form of conferences.

The home study course is a 90 day program called Beyond Freedom. The cost of this program is $1495. With Liberty League's program you get a DVD, 3 audio Cd's, a workbook, a journal, and a few other small things. The purpose of this home study course is to help you in setting new goals and straying away from your old bad habits.

Liberty League's 2nd product is called the Liberty Conference. This conference is usually held at a five-star resort somewhere in the Bahamas or Hawaii. The conference is focused on adding to what you have already learned with your Beyond Freedom program. The cost of this conference is $7,995.

The third product Liberty League has to offer is the Summit Conference. This is a five day seminar that expands even further from the Beyond Freedom and Liberty League Conference. Brent Payne And Shane Krider go all out with this conference. This conference has a price tag of $12,995.

Well you've probably noticed that Liberty League has some pretty high prices here for their personal development products. The main reason is because in order for Liberty League and the members to make money they then charge a high price for the products that they carry.

When you purchase a product from Liberty League you are not just paying for the product. You wind up paying for a variety of things. The majority of the money you spend will go to your sponsor. The rest will go to the company and a certain amount of that is taken out for the company's expenses. When you become a member of Liberty League and sell the Beyond Freedom program your commission will be $1000. So you can easily see the market right there. If I were to estimate what the Beyond Freedom program cost the company to make I would venture to say somewhere between $100-$150 dollars.

Do you think Liberty League is a scam? I personally do not. Despite the fact that Liberty League seems to have their personal development products priced too high, they still offer a legitimate way for their members to make money. Just about every business out there is going to mark up their products so that they can make money. Liberty League just goes a little too far in this area if you ask me.

So as a conclusion here if you decide that Liberty League is right for you then you need to keep this in mind. You will not only have to spend a lot of money to be able to make the big money with Liberty League, but you will also have to ask your future prospects to do the same. Despite the fact that Liberty League has some very good products here, the price tag is simply too high. I'd recommend to anyone that is still considering Liberty League to take the time and do more research. You'll be glad you did.
