

In modern times, Muslims are increasingly turning towards Islamic Matrimonials

And one of His signs is that He created mates for you from yourselves that you may find rest in them, and He put between you love and compassion; most surely there are signs in this for a people who reflect. [Holy Qur'an, Surah ar-Rum 30:21] There has not been created any institution in Islam which is more favored and dearer to Allah than marriage. [The Prophet of Islam (SAW)] In modern times, Muslims are increasingly turning to the Internet towards Islamic Matrimonials to search for a potential spouse. The traditional way for Muslims to find marriage partners is for the family to search among their friends, relatives, and neighbors for a suitable, compatible person. Islamic Matrimonials came about as a tool to be used in the search, for a spouse not as a "dating service." Muslims who participate should still hold to Islamic guidelines, both for their faith and for their personal safety. It is important to be very careful when searching for suitors on the Internet over the Islamic Matrimonials . The Islamic Matrimonials allow people to be anonymous and put up their "best side" (or an altogether ">false side"). If choosing to use this method, these Islamic guidelines will help protect you from victimization: Choose a Wali (guardian) to be your contact person for potential candidates - never contact a suitor directlyHave your Wali rigorously screen all suitors - perform reference checks, talk to Muslims in his/her local area, etc. There has not been created any institution in Islam which is more favored and dearer to Allah than marriage.
